Letter to Parents/Guardians

Dear Parent or Guardian,

We invite you to join the students and staff of [SCHOOL NAME] during the month of March to help us celebrate Middle Level Education Month. This annual recognition provides us with a special opportunity to focus the attention of our community, the nation, and the world on this very important time in the education of your children.

This month is set aside to remind us why it is so important to provide students in the middle grades with the support they need to succeed both academically and personally. The skills, habits, and values established during this time of early adolescence will have a critical, life-long influence that can directly impact your child's chances for a successful and healthy future.

Our hope is for our students to be both academically and personally successful, but for this to happen, a supportive environment both at home and at school is required. And while it sometimes seems that middle grades children are independent and self-sufficient during this age, they really do need family and parents to be involved. Simply asking questions about what your child is learning in school and attend school functions to demonstrate your interest and concern for their success.

Throughout the month of March, we will host a variety of activities that promote middle level education throughout our school. We encourage you to get involved and help us celebrate student success by supporting our efforts at home. This can be done by setting aside time each day for reading, writing, or talking about what is happening in each class. Whatever you do, remember to celebrate your child's efforts and successes.

Please join us in celebrating Middle Level Education Month. Help us provide your child with the support he or she needs to be a lifelong learner who is ready for college, career, citizenship, and a bright future.

Sincerely,

[PRINCIPAL]
